WHO'S WHO IN HOTEL DESIGN >

WA INTERNATIONAL'S LUXURY 5-STAR AL JADDAF ROTANA SUITE HOTEL

Al Jaddaf Rotana Suite Hotel's interiors takes inspiration from the neighboring Ras Al Khor Wildlife Sanctuary, a beautiful unique reserve with lush green wetlands and mangroves, all of which became WA International's inspiration and narrative for the hotel. The interiors were designed to reflect the soft, organic shapes found in nature. Delicate forms have been selected for the artwork and sculptures to further enhance the concept. Light and subtle colours have been chosen to create a fresh and energizing space, whereas the use of textures and rich finishes such as polished marble, bronze accents and soft velvets create an environment of luxury and comfort.

WA International's design director Claire Craig explains "throughout the hotel our references to the magnificent nearby mangroves with their tangled roots and rich colours can be found in our interior architectural patterns and finishes. Our custom designed screens, furniture pieces and lighting all reflect the organic nature of the stunning Ras Al Khor Wildlife Sanctuary."

As a result of this nature inspired narrative the interiors are uniquely intriguing and warmly comfortable.

For the hotel's 'All Day Dining' Claire adds "our client's vision for the restaurant was not only to cater to the morning breakfast ritual but become a destination venue in the evening, the food concept was high-end Italian. In contrast to the rest of the hotel's narrative we decided to create a unique classic Italian dining room. The floors are polished marble and oversized Italianate crystal chandeliers are suspended from the double height spaces."

For the apartments, Claire further explains "the studio and one-bedroom apartments, headboards feature hand embroidered scenes of the mangroves. Carpets are designed with leafy patterns. In the living rooms, organic plaster reliefs embellish the ceilings." A perfectly harmonious union between nature and luxury.
